1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

Claims 1-24 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Gilhousen.

Gilhousen teaches the claimed wireless system method and structure for determining the location of a "low frequency" emitter including: phase detection (314), GPS receiver (301), base stations (Figure 1, 100-102 and "OTHER BASE STATIONS"), communication means (311 and 317), phase detection (column 6, line 57 to column 7, line 55), reference signal (Figure 3, column 6, line 57 to column 7, line 55), central station (MTSO), and calculating position at the central station (column 7, lines 50-55).

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 25-28 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Gilhousen in view of Lindqvist.

Art Unit: 3662

Gilhousen teaches the claimed wireless system method and structure for determining the location of a "low frequency" emitter including: phase detection (314), GPS receiver (301), base stations (Figure 1, 100-102 and "OTHER BASE STATIONS"), communication means (311 and 317), phase detection (column 6, line 57 to column 7, line 55), reference signal (Figure 3, column 6, line 57 to column 7, line 55), central station (MTSO), and calculating position at the central station (column 7, lines 50-55).

Lindqvist teaches location apparatus including a communication system.

For greater utility, obviously the communication system of Gilhousen can use the claimed CDMA, TDMA, and FDMA, protocol in view of column 3, lines 35-60 of Lindqvist.
